VIOLATION OF THIS ORDER IS A CRIME

This is an official court order. If you disobey this order, you may be arrested and prosecuted for the crime of violating an order for protection against harassment in the workplace and any other crime that you may have committed in disobeying this order. You can be arrested even if the person who obtained this Order invites or allows you to contact him or her. You have the sole responsibility to avoid or refrain from violating the terms of this Order. A violation includes but is not limited to contact in the form of verbal, electronic, and social media communications.

You are further notified of the penalty for violation of an order. A person who intentionally violates an Extended Order for Protection Against Harassment in the Workplace is guilty of a misdemeanor, unless a more severe penalty is prescribed by law for the act that constitutes the violation of the Order. (NRS 33.350.) A misdemeanor is punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for up to 6 months, and/or by a fine of not more than $1,000.00. (NRS 193.150.) If the act that constitutes the violation of a protection order is itself a felony, the violator shall, in addition to the term of imprisonment prescribed by statute for the crime, be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for a minimum term of not less than 1 year and a maximum term of not more than 20 years. (NRS193.166.)

Only the court can change this order.

ORDER TO LAW ENFORCEMENT

Any law enforcement officer, with or without a warrant, may arrest and take into custody the Adverse Party, when the law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe that (a) an Order has been issued pursuant to NRS 33.270 against the Adverse Party; (b) the Adverse Party has been served with a copy of the Order; and (c) the Adverse Party is acting or has acted in violation of the Order. This arrest may occur regardless of whether the violation occurred in the officer's presence. Any law enforcement agency in this state may enforce a Court Order issued pursuant to NRS 33.270 without regard to the county in which the Order is issued.
